

Construction begins!

Posted by Jeff Parker - 10 Apr 2013 10:37

Our contractor broke ground this morning, and is removing blacktop as I type this. PLEASE DO NOT GO TO THE TRACK DURING THE CONSTRUCTION PHASE!

With the trucks and equipment rolling around, we do NOT want anyone on the property until its complete. Its for your safety, and so the contractor can work unimpeded. You WILL Be instructed to leave. I cant emphasize it enough. (thank you in advance for your compliance and consideration!)

I'll do my best to get update pictures so everyone can stay on top of the project.

The rain drops are about the same size, texture and water content as last report. Site is now ready for setting concrete forms. Just need the rain to stop.

Water in Spectator Lake is down to summer drought levels, thanks to the new drain pipes.

Water at end of track is at normal Spring flood levels

Water in pits is simply the pits.

Water in my belly spurted about 3" after they pulled the stitches yesterday from the hernia surgery. (Yeah, it gross me out too.)

Hey Mike, while you're at it with the glitches, for some reason I can't access the forum from my home pc or from my phone browser. It just says Forbidden. Work pc is the only one I can access on. Why?

Bob, I don't have an answer for you. I don't have I.T. credentials. There are many variables in internet browsing issues; browser, browser version, your security settings... All I can suggest is to try and delete any "cookies" from the ESTA site and clear your cache and try that. If someone else has any suggestions please pipe in.

Oddly enough, it started working again shortly after I posted that. Didn't work for months and then just starts working again..... strange....

We will probably do a time trial Saturday and then a no points regular event on Sunday for the opening weekend which is looking more than likely May 25 & 26th unless we get a favorable report from the concrete testing company saying that the concrete is ready to race on. We would like to get started sooner but we do not want to damage the work done by not letting it cure properly.
