exactly Ron I feel the same way.we should have more ways to make points and more points per round won. like five points per round winand 1 point for Best light in time trials each round and bonus points for closest to dial in best lights in rounds. this would be more like the pros , who get points for faster ET, and mile an hour per rounds. this would promote better performance every round ,instead of sand bagging.

NEED TO FIND OUR OWN SPONSERS TO MAKE THE POINTS JOURNEY WORTH WHILE IT WILL SUPPLEMENT ESTAS PAYOUT

Good luck figuring all that out. Then people would complain there is too many different ways to earn points ya , that's a little complicated , I just think more emphasis should be placed on the championship award to encourage points chasing , and bring more racers into the points mix , but what do I no , newbe lol ya just gotta make the award worth struggling for , or whats the point ,
