

493 BB mopar

Posted by a493demon - 02 Feb 2014 12:03

Selling my 493 .

Iron indy -1's that I just had done over the winter by porter racing heads .

30 over 440 block

Arp main and head studs.

Pro gram billet steel main caps .

Indy billet alum. rear seal retainer.

new nitrated comp. solid flat tappet cam.

4.15 4340 crank

H beam rods

Ross pistons.

This engine went 10.10 1/4 in my 3380lb. car and a 6.03 1/8 on a 175 shot of nitrous.

This engine has less then 20 pass's on it .

6 where 1/8th mile nitrous pass's (Norwalk mmw)

The cam was ordered to be easy on the valve spring's .

The eng. was just freshened less then 20 pass's ago by competition wedge.

With more tuning it should go in the high 9's on motor.

Prob. would have went in the 5.9's with the nitrous if the front would have stayed down.

I am prob. forgetting some thing but any questions feel free to PM me here .

or e mail at a493demon@yahoo.com

Only selling because I am going a different direction with my motor program.

This would make a great bracket motor .

asking 6500.OBO

=====

Re: 493 BB mopar

Posted by a493demon - 15 Mar 2014 09:22

SOLD

=====